Ancestor Thomas Harris of Virginia.

FOREWORD

FAMILY HERITAGE SHOULD BE A GREAT INTEREST TO EVERY AMERICAN, particularly those who have reason to believe themselves descendants of early American heritage.

Daniel Webster wrote this on our ancestry- "It is wise for us to recur to the history of our ancestors. Those who are regardless of their ancestors- do not perform their duty to the world." And from the Holy Bible, this admonishment: "Enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thyself to the search of their fathers." Job 8:8

This contribution of my efforts has been entirely a labor of love with no thought of commercial exploitation. As to the reliability- I can only state- where vital records lacked positive verification, the most logical chain of circumstantial evidence has been used.

The results of my research have covered a period of many years. Missing links, blind spots and lost tribes have required much time consuming correspondence and hours of research but certainly not time wasted, for I have gained much knowledge of the early history of our country. This search is far from complete. I am certainly not satisfied as yet, but time is fleeting and it is my desire to pass on this "Harris Line" with the hope that sometime some member of the family will take up the search and may bring to light many things that I have been unable to find.

I acknowledge, with appreciation, the many relatives and others who have helped me to make this history possible. I, especially, want to thank Mr. W. Lee Harris of Tennessee, who has spent much time in Virginia collecting the early records of this "Harris Line" that were available. He has given me many valuable notes and thinks this early "Harris" is our line because the names are identical in both families. Mr. Poe of Lenoir, N.C. has been most helpful in giving me early records of Burke County that were available. He has spent his entire life in this section and is considered authority on early settlers of the County of Burke. Mrs. Hersey Montgomery of New Mexico has made it possible for me to have the Edward Harris, Jr. line. Mrs. Ozelle Locke has patiently gotten up the lines of the family that migrated to S. Western Ark. For all of these I am most grateful. Older members of the family now gone on, whose memories extended back, have given me traditional stories. These gave me the desire to unravel.

Please bear with me, if errors are found. Sometimes typical errors, sometimes mistakes were in original copies, etc. The copying of these notes and the arranging of them has been a difficult task.

To the "Posterity of EDWARD HARRIS," our intrepid forebear, this labor is also dedicated and entrusted to the keeping of you his descendants and to the rising generations. May someone take up where I have left off and keep "Our Harris" forever alive to the many descendants.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Marie Harris Key

AMERICAN HERITAGE

This is a short history and biography of a family- a more or less typical very early American Family; its ancestral roots could be, as well may not be, Aristocratic or distinguished.

Most all Harris Families seem to be descended from Colonial stock coming from three sources: John Harris of Pennsylvania, founder of Harrisburg, Thomas Harris of Isle of Wight County of Virginia, and Capt. Thomas Harris, probably the first Harris to come to Virginia and landed at Jamestown in 1611.

It is said that the "Harris family are one common English Stock." The original seat is said to have been Wales. Some of these Welsh Harris families moved into North Eastern Ireland, just across the Irish Sea from Wales. The Irish Harris's became blended with the Welsh and also the Scotch and from these, many migrated to the Northern States of America.

In examining the line of Thomas Harris of Isle of Wight, I found at first what I thought was a real find but after some correspondence and reading his Will, I found that his grandson Edward, son of his Edward, died before his father died and the father had taken his three children to rear. I discovered that this Edward was not in his fathers Will and his son Nathan was the administrator. This was a very illustrious family and would have liked to tie on here, alas!

My next effort was to trace the first "Thomas, who arrived in Jamestown in 1611." This family seems to fit into our line the best of all. The names are, after the third generation, the same in the families. I will give copies of charts sent to me by Mr. Lee Harris of Tenn. who thinks that our lines join with the sons of William b. 1673 and 1675. Mr. Harris, also sent me copies of Court Records, etc. of Edward b. 1775 and his brother William b. 1773.

Below is a letter from Mr. Harris, Lebanon, Tenn.

July 17, 1962

Dear Mrs. Key:

Your letter of the 7th is just now getting attention. I sympathize with you working on the Edward Harris Ancestry. There are so many Edwards and found in several different families. My reason for thinking that you might be a "Kinsman" to me is the fact that you have "Giles" attached to a Harris name. I have been suspicious and have found my suspicion borne out every time.

The first Edward in my family was the son of Major William Harris who had two children by his second wife, Alice. When he made his Will 1678 (approved 1679) he left two minors, William and Edward. They were to have certain lands left in the hands of their mother. She was to keep these children until they were 16, if she married again, but if she did not marry, to keep them until they were 19.

After that she should turn land over to them. It seems that the two sons, William and Edward became very fond of their stepfather as they cooperated in business and land deals much thereafter. I will give you all you can find in Virginia Records up to the death of Edward, 1735 (ca) Edward was b. 1675, his brother William was b. 1673.

Major William Harris was the son of Thomas Harris the Immigrant. Major William Harris was b. 1629 and d. 1678-9, having been wounded and died therefrom in battle with the Indians where Richmond now stands. In his will, which must have been made after he was mortally wounded, "to my younger sonnes, who are infants, William and Edward, I give the rest of my land. William to have the plantation where I now live and Edward to have ye land running along the Ashen swamp to him and his heirs forever. Now William and Edward are not to sell unless to each other. My will is that my wife live on the plantation during her lifetime, provided she does not marry."

I will now pull my notes on Edward Harris.

I would be glad to help you in this search, but realize that it is like a needle in a haystack.

Signed Mr. L. Harris,
 Lebanon, Tenn.

Mr. Harris of Tenn. has spent much time in Virginia tracing this family through land deeds, etc., and other available information. The widow of Major William Harris married George Alves and they moved into New Kent County from Henrico. After a few years Hanover was formed from New Kent and this placed them in Hanover County. Most of the early records of Hanover County were destroyed by fire.

The families began pushing southward mostly into Amelia, Louisa, Powhatan, Cumberland and Prince Edward Counties. By 1740 Edward b. 1710 was thirty years old; the writer surmises that he migrated into Lunenburg County gradually, marrying "Widow Gilliam" along the way, perhaps Prince Edward County. There were many Gilliams in this County. It was formed in 1753 from Amelia, however, and many of the Gilliams were there before 1753.

The charts on the following pages were given to me by Mr. Harris of Lebanon, Tenn. Please note the same names running through the William Harris family and the Edward Harris family and believe it or not those same names are in many of the families today. Through the writers grandfather, my mother's father, I do not believe there has been a single generation since Edward of 1675 that the name Edward has not been handed down in the family.

I have marked the names with * to call attention to repetition of family names in both families. This almost proves to me that this is our line.

Also note: The name Mary Giles is given for wife of both William and Edward. This evidently is an error, that is if they were sisters. If not sisters they could have been first cousins. So many errors were made in copying names, etc. at that time. It could have been an error.

Also note the number of Gilliams in both families. There was a close relationship between the Gilliam and Harris families. Many marriages back and fourth in Edward Harris Jr. son of Edward 1710, among Gilliams and Harrises.

This chart of the "Harris" family was given to the writer by Mr. L. Harris of Tenn., who thinks our line joins with William 1673 and Edward 1675.

EDWARD HARRIS

b. 1675

EDWARD HARRIS, son of Major William Harris and his wife Alice was b. ca 1675. He was taken to New Kent County and lived there with his mother, after she married her second husband, George Alves.

There are several deeds in the old records of Henrico County, which show that he disposed of his lands left him by the will of his father (Major William Harris).

These deeds afford the major part of our knowledge of Edward Harris.

He was made surveyor of a road in St. Pauls Parish, New Kent, on Tottopotomoi Creek 1704. St. Pauls Vestry. Book Page 4.

He was named or made a proccessioner until 1731 in St. Pauls Parish. He was made a proccessioner in St. Peters Parish before St. Paul was cut off from St.

Peters Parish in 1689. It is evident from the records that they were living in the New Parish St. Paul after 1704.

No records in Vestry Book after 1731. This would place him as b. ca 1675, d. ca 1731.

No proof of the above names. However, St. Peter's Parish Vestry Book New Kent County list Ann and Edward, dates are not right. Could be children of another Edward.

Mr. Lee Harris says, - "One reason it is so hard to trace the Harrises is the fact that from the time Thomas arrived in Virginia 1611 to the beginning of the Revolution 1775 there were over 200 immigrants by the name of Harris coming to Virginia. Then another trouble was the fact that the records of New Kent and Hanover cannot be had. Hanover records were destroyed by fire in 1865 and the New Kent records have been lost. This is where our people were after the first generation through the third generation. The Harrises through the South and the West are mostly from Hanover County originally." He says that he has worked at odd times since 1914 and has come to the conclusion that it is impossible to get records back to Thomas, 1611, to be absolutely sure.

The writer has picked the names above from many references I have read. Always looking for some possible clue as to names of brothers and sisters of Edward b. 1710. I will explain some of the names, my reason for thinking they could be right.

Worth S. Ray in his book "Mecklenburg Signers" states "William Gilliam b. 1699 m. Agnes Harris, who was probably a daughter of Edward Harris or John Harris (I found no record of John Harris that these dates fit). He also mentions a Benjamin Harris that was a brother to Agnes Harris, Benjamin m. Anne Eppes, who was an aunt of Mrs. Thos. Jefferson. He left will in Cumberland County 1757. He had a son named EDWARD."

I have found lines of Harris families in D.A.R. records that say they descended from Nathan Harris, Edward Harris, William Harris, Thos. Harris.

This William Gilliam that married Agnes Harris owned a plantation adjoining Edward Harris, 1710, in Charlotte County, Va. They migrated into Granville County, N.C. about same time Edward migrated into Burke County, N.C.

The writer found a John Harris inventory in Charlotte County (not much of worlds goods) that might possibly be a brother to Edward 1710. It was dated ca 1778.

Nathan E. Harris b. Jonesboro, Tenn. moved to Georgia and later became Governor of Georgia, is said to have descended from Thomas Harris Line. Perhaps through Nathan. Take these suggestions with a grain of salt, at least it is "Food for thought." These names fit well into the next generations.

The charts of Edward Harris 1710, his son Miniard, will be found later in this book.

THOMAS HARRIS, 1586-1649

MAJOR WILLIAM HARRIS, 1629 ca 1678-9

EDWARD HARRIS, 1675 ca 1635

The above Edward Harris was the youngest son of Major William Harris by his second wife Alice. Major William Harris was the son of Thomas Harris, Gent. the Immigrant.

Dr. Alexander Brown stated in his "Genesis of the United States," Vol. 11, Page 913 that Thomas Harris, Gent, subscribed to the second Virginia Company in Jan. and Nov. 1609 and paid twenty-five pounds. Brown also states that he may have been the son of Sir William Harris or Herries of England.

In the will of Sir William Herries (or Harris) of Crixie, dated Dec. 21, 1615, his sons Thomas and John are given 1500 Pounds, the same as the other younger children but no place of residence is shown. Will was probated Nov. 20, 1616 by Sir Arthur Harris the eldest son. It appears, although not directly proven, that Thomas Harris may have been the third son of Sir William Harris. There is no direct proof in Virginia that Thomas and John of Charles City were brothers.

Capt. Thomas Harris, came to Virginia during the time of Sir Thomas Dale and is said that they were related. Capt. Thomas Harris m. first Adria who came to Virginia in 1621. She only lived about three years and then he married Joanne Gurgany or Virgany. He was married to Joanne before 1625. Their daughter Mary, who married Thomas Ligon, was b. 1625 and their son Major William was b. 1629. Captain Thomas Harris was a patentee of lands in Henrico County. He was in the Indian War 1622. In the House of Burgesses 1623-4 again 1629 to 1647. He took out his first patent in 1635 for himself. Later patents were in 1655 to 1658.

It is said that Thomas Harris and John Chew are the only members of the early House of Burgess that are known to have descendants in America.

Major William Harris was also married twice. His first wife was Lucy. He had two children by Lucy, a daughter who married 1st a Geo. Archer and a son

THOMAS HARRIS, 1586-1649
MAJOR WILLIAM HARRIS, 1629-1678
EDWARD HARRIS, 1675-1735

Thomas Harris b. 1669, d. 1692. The writer has found many descendants listed from this Thomas. But proof has been given to me that this Thomas died unmarried and that his inheritance from William was divided among Williams two sons- William and Edward. Major William married second to Alice. There were two sons born to this union; William, b. 1673 and Edward b. 1675. They were small children when their father was killed in battle with the Indians near where Richmond now stands. Major William, like his father, was also a member of House of Burgess 1652-3; again served 1656-7-8. He was appointed by the assembly in 1636 as Major for Regiment of Henrico and Charles City Cos.

Major William made his will in 1678 (probably after he was wounded). He left two minors, William b. 1673 and Edward b. 1675. The sudden death of William probably accounts for the informal type of Will, which remains.

Copy of Will
Major William Harris

Not knowing what the Lord hath ordained or at what time he may take me out of this life, I do hereby settle my estate of lands as followeth:-

I give and bequeath to my son Thomas- below the Ware and to keep the Ware run for his bounds till it shall come to ye spring at ye hed and then to follow a bottom on ye lower side of the clearing of John Rabon to the hundred road path, and then on a straight road or course to the land of Col. Ashbrooke, but in no case to cross Pockett's path.

To my younger sonnes, William and Edward Harris, I give the rest of my dividend, William to have the plantation where I now live and Edward to have ye land next to Ashbrooke. But William to extend out 100 yards beyond the clearing of John Rabon on the path called Pockett's Path; and thence on a straight course to ye Red Water, and Edward the hed visdt: to Peter Ashbrooke his line as also ye Ashen swamp above, to them and their heirs.

Neither to sell unless one to the other and if either die without issue the land to come to the survivor.

My two youngest sons to live with their mother till the age of sixteen if she marry, if not till age of nineteen years.

My will is that my wife live on the plantation during her life but not to hinder my son William at the head of ye ware if he come to himself.

I desire my friends, Mr. Thomas Cocke and Mr. William Randolph to see my will performed.

In witness of every part hereof I put my hand this 20th day of Apr. 1678.

The writer starts the numbering of the generations with Edward Harris (1) born 1710 (ca) d. Oct. 7, 1780. This is proven, etc. I do feel, however, that the above line could be exactly right. Maybe someday this can be proven.

Earliest records of Edward Harris (1) were found in 1751 in Lunenburg County. Just how long he had lived there prior to 1751 is not known. He could have migrated there around 1740 about the time he married "Widow Gilliam". All of his children could have been born in Lunenburg County.

Vestry Book of Lunenburg County 1751 TITHES were taken by Lydell Bacon.

EDWARD HARRIS----One tithe in Cumberland Parish.

TITHES 1764 Cornwell Parish after Charlotte Co. taken from Lunenburg

EDWARD HARRIS ----- 1 TITHE 400 acres Taken by Thomas Bedford.

MAYNARD HARRIS ---- 1 TITHE

STEPHEN HARRIS ---- 1 TITHE

The writer would like to mention here that Mary Ligon, sister to Major William, had a granddaughter named Mary Ligon Coleman that married the Thomas Bedford, who took the Tithes in Cornwell Parish, Charlotte County in 1764. They lived near Edward (1). Edward (1) and Mary Coleman Bedford were third cousins (perhaps).

Maynard and Stephen were the two oldest sons of Edward (1) 1710-1780.

Charlotte County was formed from Lunenburg County in 1764. This found Edward Harris (1) 1710-1780 and his family living in Charlotte.

Name spelling at that early date was precarious. Men even signed their names with different spellings on different occasions, or a clerk frequently spelled the name as he heard it rather than to be bothered with asking how to spell it. The name Miniard, for instance, had many spellings. Minyard (The writer believes this must have been the original spelling and that the name was taken from a surname. Miniard Harris could have gotten his name through his mother). Then there was Mainyard, Menyeard, Manard, Minyeard and the modern spelling Maynard.

Some of our kith and kin spell Harris with ss at end of name. (Here the writer thinks this must have been added in same manner as above or it made their name look different from all the others by adding ss. A grandson of the writers great aunt told me that they added an e to their name- Bean (Beane) so their name would be different from the rest of the family.

LUNENBURG COUNTY RECORDS

Robert Gilliam of Prince Edward County, deed to Edward Harris of Lunenburg County, Va.

DEED BOOK #7, PAGE 279

"Whereas, Hugh Miller, Apr. 21, 1755 sold to John Gilliam, 1588 acres of land lying in Lunenburg County on both sides of Twilly's Creek. It is coventanted that the said John Gilliam do lay off and convey unto Edward Harris when thereto required by good and Lawful Deed at the said Harris costs, 400 acres of the above tract of 1588 acres including and adjoining the Plantation whereupon the said Edward Harris now lives, in fee simple the estate of in and to the said 1588 acres of land with like proviso and conditions. Now the said Robert Gilliam sells to Edward Harris of Lunenburg County the said 400 acres aforementioned lying on both sides of Twilly's Creek, etc.

Witnesses, Henry Isbell, William Gilliam, Richard Ellis.

The complete deed says that Robert Gilliam sold land to James Gilliam at the same time and that it joined Edward Harris's land. Also William Gilliam's land joined Edward Harris's land. These Gilliams were all related, but how?

The writer found in Worth S. Rays, "Mecklenburg Signers" that William Gilliam married Agnes Harris in New Kent County. She was b. ca 1701. He also said she was the daughter of Edward or John Harris of New Kent County. (Hanover County was formed from New Kent County 1720. Edward Harris and family were living in Hanover County after 1620. Key) Mr. Ray also stated that they migrated to Lunenburg County. The writer found that William Gilliams Plantation and that of Edward Harris joined. Seems very logical that Agnes Harris and Edward Harris were sister and brother. The Gilliam family migrated into Granville Co., N.C. about the same time that Edward and families began migrating to Burke Co., N.C. The children of William Gilliam and Agnes Gilliam were: Richard, Harris, William, Winifred, Agnes and Amy.

He, Miniard, could have migrated into Lunenburg as early as 1740, and all of his children could have been born in Lunenburg County.

(1) The following History of Edward Harris (1710-80 ca) was given to the writer by Mrs. Hersey Montgomery, Monument, New Mexico. Mrs. Montgomery's husband, Worthy Montgomery, is a direct descendant of Edward Harris, the brother of Miniard Harris.

"This is a traditional account."

Quote: "I, John Harris, at the age of seventy-two, (1890) in writing the account of the origin of the 'Harris Family', have to write from memory and from statements made by my father (Johnson Harris, a son of Edward Harris, Jr.) and by my grandfather, Edward Harris (2).

Our ancestors were from Wales, a woman with two sets of children, one by name of Gilliam and one by name of Harris, settled in or near Charlotte County, Va.

Great Grandfather, Edward Harris (1) generally called "Ned" had five sons, whose names were: (2) Miniard Harris, (2) Stephen Harris, (2) David Harris, (2) Edward Harris, (2) Braddock Harris. Gr. Grandfather lived in Virginia in the time of the Revolutionary War.

(2) Edward Harris, Jr. was my father. He lived in Virginia in the time of the Revolutionary War. They moved to North Carolina and settled in or near Buncombe County. How long they lived there I have no recollection." End of Quote.

The writer has spent sometime tracing the buying of land and the selling of land in Va. and N.C., and my findings indicate that the Va. families migrated into North Carolina before the Revolution, perhaps in 1775. Buncombe County was not formed until 1791. Think Mr. John Harris grandfather must have been in Wilkes County after it was taken from Burke in 1777. They were in Rowan Co. in 1775. Burke was formed in early 1777. They were all neighbors but later in the year Wilkes was cut off part of Burke and this found part of them living in Wilkes County. The 1790 Census bears this out. Below I am listing land purchases and sales of Edward Senr. Maynard and Stephen Harris in Va.

EDWARD HARRIS (1) - 1710-1780 (ca)

Copies of deeds of Edward Harris, Sr. and Stephen Harris, also Maynard Harris are in the writers possession. Edward's and Stephen's Deeds do not give the name of wife. Maynard Harris's deed has wife Sarah Harris.

Edward Harris (1) Sr. was living as late as 1777 according to his last deed to Andrew Lee in Charlotte County, Va. Dated Feb. 10, 1777.

The writer's opinion is that Miniard Harris, soon after he sold his plantation in Charlotte Co., Va. in Feb. 1775, with his brothers Edward, David and Braddock migrated into North Carolina, into what was then Rowan County, but early in 1777 Burke was formed from Rowan County and this found them in Burke Co. Seems that Edward, David and Braddock did not own land and they were free to make the move with Miniard.

Edward Harris (1) Sr. and Stephen sold their land Nov. 10, 1777 and Nov. 2, 1778 Respt. They probably went into North Carolina at the same time. The writer has no proof of these moves except through their sales of land in Va. As Mr. Worth S. Ray says in his Book, "Mecklenburg Signers" "The Genealogist (I am not one) must know how to interpret records and analyze their meaning. What Records? All records that tend to throw light on meaning of such fragments as are available to be interpreted. Selah." The general idea is when all the families sold their holdings, it meant they were seeking "greener pastures" and the trend at that time was to migrate South or West.

After I found that all who owned land had sold I began to study the North Carolina Records for Land Grants, etc. Many records were burned during the Civil War. The few remaining records do shed some light. However, it is presumed that Miniard bought land from an individual as I could find no record of Land Grant. There are no records of this, however, but one of the land grants to one of the others state that land is bounded on one side by Minyeads line. A genealogist and one who is very familiar with land records, deeds, abstracts, etc., in Caldwell County tells me he feels convinced that the clerk who wrote the record left off the name of Harris.

There are records of Land Grants in Raleigh of different counties. The writer wrote to Wilkes County to find out when Edward sold his land in Wilkes County. I have a copy of the Land Grant, but there was no record whatsoever of when it was sold. Burned during Civil War.

A grant of land was made to Edward Harris in Wilkes County on March 3, 1779, for 230 acres lying on the North Fork of Fishes Creek. He was listed in the 1790 Census of Wilkes County, Morgan District.

EDWARD HARRIS (1) - 1710-1780 (ca)

Edward had seven daughters and one son. Last two daughters born after the 1790 Census. So many Edwards- but when you find a Census with the exact number of children- boys and girls- you have something.

Stephen Harris bought land in 1781 in Wilkes County along Fishes Creek, a neighbor to Edward. He sold in 1789 and migrated into Laurens County, S.C. Edward and Braddock did not go to Laurens County, S.C. until 1796-1798.

The father Edward Harris (1) and sons had sold their land in Charlotte County, Virginia by Dec. 1778. Miniard Harris and wife Sarah sold their plantation first in Feb. 1775. Evidently, this must have been the year that Miniard Harris and family, Edward Harris and family (note: their wives were sisters), David Harris and family and Braddock Harris and his family migrated into North Carolina. Edward, David and Braddock evidently did not own any land, so it was easy for them to pull up stakes and go along with Miniard. They must have been in Rowan County at that early date. Burke and Wilkes were formed from Rowan in 1777. They were pioneers into a sparsely settled country. The Indians had been pushed back to the Mountains by this time. However, they were practically out of reach of governmental authority. These independent, daring pioneers were trained to rely on their own personal strength and prowess and felt, perhaps, less need for government authority than any other one thing. Worth S. Ray, in his book, "Lost Tribes of North Carolina," says- "Those migrating into North Carolina from Va. and Maryland were restless creatures, disgusted with slave-packed plantations, neighborhood Overlords and State -supervised and Tax-supported religious institutions to which they did not belong to or subscribe."

Rumple in his "History of Rowan County" says- "The people of Western North Carolina were a liberty-loving people, who came to the wilds of North Carolina for the express purpose of escaping from Political and ecclesiastical oppression. The population in those days was hopelessly plunged into 'Dissent' and resisted every effort to settle a parish minister over them and thus refused to subject themselves to additional taxation."

The white occupation of North Carolina had extended only to the Blue Ridge Mtns. when the Revolution began. In 1775, when it is thought that the Harris men came into North Carolina, they were neighbors as at that time it was customary for them to settle near each other. In 1777 when Burke and Wilkes were formed into counties, it found some of them in Wilkes and some in Burke. In Burke, some lived along the John's River. This part of Burke became Caldwell County in 1841.

There were a great many men at this time who fought as frontiersmen, protecting their homes and families; whose names have gone unrecorded. Many of these men fought later in the battle of "King's Mountain," which was said to be the turning point of the Revolution. By 1780 the Colonists of this part of North Carolina had become extremely serious. Georgia and South Carolina had been overrun by the British. Cornwallis felt that the time was ripe for taking North Carolina. He sent Ferguson into the western part. Here Ferguson heard that the frontiersmen were arming themselves. It is said about this time there was not a regular soldier south of Virginia.

MINIARD HARRIS - 1742-1780

The Militiaman of Western North Carolina was unique in his way- in words of Governor Graham- "as well as a self-supporting institution, he went forth to service generally without thought of drawing uniform, rations, arms and pay. A piece of white paper pinned to his hunting cap was his uniform, a wallet of parched flour or a sack of meal was his commissariat; a tin cup, a frying pan and a pair of saddle-bags his only impedimenta; a horse capable of long subsisting on nature's bounty, was his means of rapid mobilization or hasty change of base; a sense of manly duty performed- his sense of propriety would have been rudely shocked by any suggestion of reward for serving his country, --"

(Taken from "Western North Carolina" by Arthur).

Upon hearing of the approach of Ferguson in this part of N.C. with his large force, Maj. McDowell hurriedly went over the mountains to obtain assistance and to consult with Col. Sevier and Col. Shelby. Two paroled men arrived about this time to inform these officers that if they did not desist from their opposition to the British Arms and take protection under his standard, Ferguson would march his army over the mountains, hang their leaders and lay waste the country with fire and sword. It was decided very hurriedly by each of the Colonels to raise all the men that could be enlisted and that this force when collected should meet on the Watauga on the 25th of Sept. Jimmie Blair, a son of pioneers of Burke Co. was dispatched by Col. McDowell to alert the men in the Burke and Wilkes area. Many Tories were lurking along his route and he was wounded on this trip. (Notes taken from "Here Will I Dwell," by Nancy Alexander).

It was agreed that Col. Shelby should give intelligence of their movements to Col. Campbell of the adjoining County of Washington in Virginia, with the hope that he would raise what force he could and cooperate with them. They met at Watauga on the 30th of Sept., 1780, where they were joined by Col. Cleaveland from Wilkes and Surry Counties. Their force in numbers were 1390 men. Burke and Rutherford under Maj. McDowell raised 160 men. It was agreed that Col. William Campbell, who had the largest regiment (400 men), should take command until the arrival of a General Officer. Maj. McDowell should take command of Burke and Rutherford Counties until the return of Col. Charles McDowell.

On the evening of the 6th of Oct. the Colonels in council unanimously resolved that they would select all the men and horses fit for service and immediately pursue. Nine hundred and ten men were chosen to march before and the rest of the men were told to follow as quickly as they could. They met Col. Williams of S. C., with near 400 men. Also Col. Hambrite of Lincoln County with 60 men. These men rode all night long. It is said they were in the saddle some 30 hours. On the morning of the seventh of Oct. before sunrise, they crossed the River and marched about two miles to the place where Ferguson had encamped on the night of the fifth. They ate what breakfast their saddle-bags would afford. The day was showery and they were obliged to use their blankets to protect their firearms from getting wet. Their plan was to divide the forces, one-half to the right and occupy the Southeast side- the others to advance to the Northwest side. The troops were led in the following order: To the right, Major Winston, Col. Sevier, Col.

MINIARD HARRIS - 1742-1780

Campbell, Col. Shelby and Maj. McDowell. To the left, Col. Hambrite, Col. Cleaveland, Col. Williams of S.C. Some of the regiments suffered much galling fire of the enemy before they were in position to fight. The men with Shelby and McDowell were soon closely engaged and the contest from the first was very severe. Williams and Cleveland were soon in their places and with the utmost energy engaged the enemy. Ferguson made furious charges upon Shelby and McDowell, charging down some 200 yards. He was soon compelled to order his men back to the top of the mountain to ward off the deadly attack from Col. Williams (S.C.). Ferguson again charged fury down the mountain. When Shelby's men saw this they raised the cry "Come on men the enemy is retreating." Ferguson returned from the charge against the South Carolinians, renewed their fire with great resolution. He again charged upon Shelby and McDowell but not so far as before. Col. Williams men called out, "The enemy is retreating, come on men." At this stage of action, Hambrite's men and Winston's men had met and a brisk fire was poured upon Ferguson's men. All around the mountain he would advance toward Campbell, Sevier, Winston and Hambrite. He was pursued by McDowell, Williams and Cleaveland. Then when he would turn, he was pursued from the other side. Ferguson was killed. Col. Shelby demanded that the enemy lay down their arms. A guard was placed over the prisoners and all remained on the mountain top during the night. This battle was of short duration, about one hour. Col. Hambrite was wounded, Maj. Chronicle was wounded and Col. Williams was killed. It is believed the loss of the Whigs was not exactly ascertained, but said to be about thirty men killed and fifty wounded. The enemy had 150 killed and all the rest were taken prisoners. (From "Sketches of North Carolina," by Foote). It is said that this battle of King's Mountain was the most decisive, the most gloriously fought and although few in numbers, was of the greatest importance of any one battle that ever was fought in America. (Historical Sketches of North Carolina, by Col. John H. Wheeler).

This expedition "The Battle of King's Mountain, Oct. 7, 1780, conceived and organized and with the aid they sought from Va. and the Watauga Settlement, carried to success at King's Mountain, thwarted all the plans of the British Commander and restored the almost lost cause of the Americans and rendered possible its final triumph at Yorktown, Oct. 19, 1781." (Taken from "Rowan County," by Rumble).

"This expedition was without reward or the hope of reward. Undertaken and executed by private individuals at their own insistance - who furnished their arms, conveyances, and supplies, bore their own expense, achieved the victory and then quietly retired to their homes - leaving the benefit of their work to all Americans and the United States their debtors for independence." ("Western North Carolina," by Arthur).

It is not known what kind of service the three brothers, Miniard Harris, David Harris, and Edward Harris, were in during the Revolution. There are no records in the office of Adjutant General of the United States. We do know, however, that these three men fought and two of them lost their lives in the Battle of "King's Mountain." This has been handed down through the generations in each family. The writer could not refrain from giving place in this book, to the story of "The Battle of King's Mountain" (from Sketches of North Carolina by

MINIARD HARRIS - 1742-1780

Footnote). After finding that these men were gathered from Burke, Wilkes and Surry Counties and that McDowell of Burke Co. started the movement, it clearly indicated to the writer that our Harris men were among those 160 men gathered in haste. There is a "Traditional" story handed down in the Edward Harris line that he, Edward, saw Miniard fall but they were moving with such speed and fighting so furiously that he had no chance to stop. He later went back but could not find Miniard's body. The writer thinks this "Traditional" story fits the above story of King's Mountain perfectly. We thank God that we do have some Traditional Stories handed down in our families that are true and authentic.

There is also a "Traditional" story in the Edward Harris line that Edward, the father of Miniard, David, Edward, Stephen and Braddock, was taken prisoner probably around 1780 by the Tories and perhaps he died soon afterward. He is not listed in the 1790 Census.

(2) Miniard Harris b. 1742, d. Oct. 7, 1780, oldest son of Edward Harris, was killed in the battle of "King's Mountain." He m. Sarah Johnson in Charlotte Co., Va. ca 1763-4. According to land sales in Virginia in Feb. 1775, it would indicate that he, his family and his two brothers, Edward and David, and their families, migrated into N.C. in the year 1775. More to follow on this family.

(2) Stephen Harris, the second son of Edward Harris, b. ca 1744. He married and lived in Charlotte Co., Va. until after 1778, at which time he sold his farm of 395 acres and Land Deeds in Wilkes County show that he bought land there in 1781. Stephen's father Edward sold his land in Charlotte Co. in 1777. It is not known where he went but the writer presumes he migrated with Stephen a year later into N.C. Stephen sold his land in Wilkes Co. in 1789 and with his family migrated into South Carolina (Laurens Co.). He was found in the 1790 Census there. It is presumed that he died in Laurens Co. The 1790 Census listed one son over 16, one son under 16, and one daughter under 16, under Stephen Harris in Laurens County.

(2) David Harris b. ca 1746, d. Oct. 7, 1780. Killed in the battle of "King's Mountain." Tradition says he married Nannie Lane, perhaps in Charlotte Co., Va. The writer presumes that he migrated into N.C. at the same time, along with Miniard. No land deeds were found in Charlotte Co., Va. to establish his residence there nor in North Carolina. As he was killed in battle of King's Mountain, the writer thinks he must have been living near Miniard in N.C. and they all went together with McDowell and the Burke Co. men to fight in this battle.

(2) Edward Harris b. 1748, d. 1810-20. He also lived and married in Charlotte Co., Va. to Mary Johnson, a sister to Miniard's wife. He also migrated into N.C. along with Miniard. He was granted 250 acres in Wilkes County in 1779. Edward Harris was found in the 1790 Census of Wilkes County. At this time he had one son and five daughters under 16. His only son's name was Johnson. In 1795-6 he and family migrated into Laurens County, S.C. He was in the 1800 Census also the 1810 Census of Laurens County but died before the 1820 Census.

EDWARD HARRIS (1) - 1710-1780 (ca)
MINIARD HARRIS - 1742-1780

Most of his descendants migrated into Tennessee and some into Perry Co., Ill., where many of them still reside. More on this family later.

(2) Braddock Harris, youngest son of Edward Harris, b. ca 1750-5, was found in the 1790 Census of Wilkes Co., N.C. He had one son under 16 and one daughter under 16. Braddock Harris migrated to Laurens Co., S.C. before the 1800 Census was taken.

Miniard Harris above was son of Lewis Harris, who was oldest son of Miniard Harris, killed in battle of King's Mtn. 1780.

John Harris and David Harris were also sons of Miniard, killed 1780.

Lott Estes above is son of Reuben Estes, Lott Estes' daughter, Lora, m. Edward Harris, son of Lewis Harris above.

Sarah Harris was left with a large family of children after Miniard Harris was killed in battle of King's Mountain, Oct. 7, 1780. A traditional story in the Edward Harris line is that the brothers of Miniard helped Sarah with her children. The writer found that Elizabeth "Betsy" Harris, dau. of Miniard and Sarah Harris, b. 1770, must have been in Stephens home in Wilkes County when she married Moses Sanders, as Stephen was Witness and bondsman for her. Betsy Harris Sanders and Moses Sanders migrated to Laurens Co., S.C. along with Stephen Harris and his family in 1789. They were found in the 1790 Census there.

It was the custom at that time for the oldest son to become the head of his father's home after his death. Here we find Sarah and her family listed in the 1790 Census of Burke County under the name of her oldest son, Lewis. Lewis had been married about one year and had an infant son named "Miniard" for his grandfather Miniard.

1790 Census Burke County, Morgan District.

Lewis Harris
2 males 16 and upward,
5 males under 16,
4 females.

The two males were Lewis and Miniard, Sarah's son who migrated to S.C. probably with Braddock and Edward Harris, his Uncles. The five males under 16 were the four sons of Sarah; and the infant "Miniard" son of Lewis. The four females were two of Sarah's daughters, Sarah and Lewis's wife. One of Sarah's daughters, Betsy, had married in 1788-9 and had migrated into S.C., Laurens Co., with Stephen Harris. Sarah was head of her house by 1800.

(3) Lewis Harris b. 1764-5, d. 1845-50, m-? He had eight children at home by 1810. He had three boys born between 1800 and 1810. One of these boys was Edward Harris b. 1804. The names of the other children are not known with the exception of Miniard b. 1790. Edward Harris line follows next in this book. He is the gr. grandfather of the writer (maternal father's side).

(4) Edward Harris, son of Lewis Harris, b. 1804; d. 1869, m. Lora Estes of John's River Section, Burke Co., N.C., where some of the Harris family settled in 1775. The Estes family migrated into N.C. from Va. in 1777. Lott Estes, the father of Lora, was born that year, the first of the children to be born in N.C.

EDWARD HARRIS (1) - 1710-1780 (ca)

MINIARD HARRIS - 1742-1780

He was son of Reuben Estes. Lott Estes married Lora Gilbert, a daughter of Michael Gilbert b. in Va. Michael Gilbert lived in Lincoln County, N. C. for a few years and then moved into Burke County after the 1790 Census. They were neighbors to the Estes family, also the Harris family. A sister of Lora Estes, Rebecca, married David Harris in 1811. Another one of the Gilbert girls, Clarrissa, married a brother of Lott Estes.

The Gilbert family was also from Virginia, Bedford Co. The Estes family trace back to Abraham Estes or Eastes who settled in King and Queen County in the latter part of the Seventeenth Century.

Oct. term 1804 - a deed from Reuben Fletcher to Lewis Harris (father of Edward Harris) for 347 acres (John's River) is proved by the oath of John Harris (Lewis's brother) a witness thereto.

Edward Harris and Lora Estes Harris and their children were living in Cherokee Co. in 1845. The oldest daughter, Mary, met and married John Albert Henry there in 1845. They settled in Haywood Co., N.C. near Waynesville, and lived there all of their lives. She was the only child of Edward Harris that remained in N. C.

Edward Harris and Lora Estes Harris and family migrated into Murray Co., Ga. and were there when the 1850 Census was taken. In 1859 a number of Harris families were migrating to Texas and Arkansas. Edward Harris and family were among them. Edward and Lora went to Southwest Ark., Hempstead Co., near Ozan, along with their daughter Eveline Harris Robins and her husband John Bush Robins. Edward Harris and wife Lora both died there and are buried in the Zion Cemetery near Ozan, Ark.

There is a deed recorded in Deed Book Page #68 dated Oct. 20, 1870, Burke Co. Robert R. Wakefield, commissioner, appointed by court to sell the Lott Estes lands to Larkin Estes (a son) for sum of $2,325, in all-300 acres. Edward Harris, the husband of Lora Estes, is identified as Lyndsey Harris. Writer says; (1) Clerk made a mistake or (2) his middle name was "Lindsey" and the clerk wrote the last name.

Apr. 15, 1883 near Waynesville, Haywood Co., N.C. They were married in Cherokee Co. where Edward Harris and family had moved after the Cherokee Indians had been removed from Western N.C. into Okla. The farming land was considered very good in this section of Cherokee Co. John Henry was visiting his brother who lived near the Harris family and there he met Mary Harris, married her and took her back to Haywood Co. where they settled on a farm in the "Maggie Valley" near Waynesville. This valley lies in the Blue Ridge Mountains. Their children are:

Mary Harris Henry was the only member of her father and mother's family (Edward Harris and Lora Estes Harris) that did not migrate westward in 1845 into Georgia and then to Texas and Ark. by 1859. Mary lost all contact with her parents, sisters and brothers and for sixty years she looked in vain for some word from them. The writer contacted her Grandson in 1950. Found his name in a History of Haywood Co., N.C. He told me that my letter would have meant so much to his grandmother if it had come in her lifetime. Mary Harris was the oldest sister of my grandfather, Andrew Jackson Harris.

Dear Mrs. Jones:

As a friend and fellow officer of your brother Dan, I wish to express my deepest sympathy to you and the other members of his family for the sorrow which has come to you all recently.

He was one of the first officers I met in this regiment, and being from Arkansas (I'm from Fordyce) we had something in common from the start. We became good friends and since December had worked together in the same Company.

Dan was well liked and thought of by both enlisted men and officers of the regiment. As a regimental communications officer, he did an outstanding job and was slated for promotion. His death was a loss to the entire unit.

It happened several days after the 511 entered this operation. After a rapid thirty-one mile advance, the regiment encountered very heavy opposition. An artillery round landed in the two-story building which was being used as a regimental headquarters. Dan was upstairs at the time. I had just entered the building. It may be of some small comfort to you to know that he suffered no pain.

I would have written to his wife, whom I also think a great deal of, but did not know her address. Incidentally, I got your address through a salesman of the Richie Grocery at Hope, Ark.

If there is anything I might be able to do for you here, please don't hesitate to notify me at any time.

Again, my deepest sympathy to all of you.

Sincerely,
William C. Abernathy,

FROM THE DEPARTMENT OF CHEMISTRY
SUBJECT: REPORT ON THE PROGRESS OF RESEARCH
DURING THE YEAR 1957

The Department of Chemistry has been fortunate in having a very successful year. The research program has been carried out in a most efficient manner, and the results have been of a high quality. The following is a summary of the work done during the year.

The first part of the report deals with the work done in the field of organic chemistry. The second part deals with the work done in the field of inorganic chemistry. The third part deals with the work done in the field of physical chemistry.

The work done in the field of organic chemistry has been of a high quality. The results have been of a high quality. The following is a summary of the work done during the year.

The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the second part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the third part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the fourth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the fifth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the sixth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the seventh part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the eighth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the ninth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the tenth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the eleventh part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the twelfth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

In the thirteenth part we consider the case of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) for arbitrary values of the parameters α and β .

Andrew Jackson Harris was born in Burke County, N.C. Migrated to Georgia with his family soon after 1845. The family was in the 1850 Census of Murray Co., Ga. Dicey Eveline Harris's father Giles N. Harris was also b. in Burke Co., N.C. Migrating with his family from Buncombe Co., N.C. before the 1840 Census into Gwinnert County, Ga. Dicey Eveline was b. in Murray Co., Ga. Her family and also that of her husband migrated in the same wagon train to Tex., some however settled in Hempstead Co., Ark.

Dicey Eveline Harris told her children that she remembered well their trip to Texas by wagon train. She was about nine years old at the time. They were nearly a year making the trip as the weather was very bad so much of the time. The men had to clear and make many of their roads. Often they would lose their fire and would have to make it to some settlers home and "borrow" fire.

Andrew Jackson Harris served in the Civil War. Confederate Records of Murray Co., Ga., now in the Archives at Atlanta, Ga., state that he received an Honorable Discharge in 1863 for disability- loss of lung.

They were among the early settlers of Wood Co. James Gilbert Harris, a brother of Giles N. Harris, blazed the way in 1852. He settled on the old Warlick place between Quitman and Oak Grove Community. The next year, 1853, David, his brother, their mother, Rebecca Gilbert Harris and their maiden sister, Dicy, along with others came. Among them was Temperance, a sister of the above men. She married Abraham Sudderth in Ga. They had four children at that time. She was taken ill on the trip, d. and was buried in the Mississippi Delta.

Jack (Andrew Jackson) Harris was a prosperous farmer and at his death had accumulated a considerable amount for that day and time. He owned a Cotton Gin, a Grist Mill and also freighted to and from Jefferson, Tex, which at that time was one of the main trading points in that part of Tex.

(6) Penn Harris b. Jan. 12, 1901, son of William Benjamin Harris and Nancy Jerden Harris. No record.

The writer has been unable to get very much information on the three daughters of Edward Harris, 1804-1869. They are: (3) Sena Harris b. 1836 in N.C. She was married to Lewis O'Rear in Ga. It is presumed that they migrated to Ark. in 1859 when other families were migrating Westward. They were in Rains Co. near Emory, Tex. later, about 1880. Their children were: (6) Thomas O'Rear, (6) Monroe O'Rear, (6) William O'Rear, (6) Mary O'Rear. Have no records of birth dates and if there were other children.

(5) Rhoda Francis Harris b. 1845, eighth child of Edward Harris and Lora Estes Harris, m. John Sanford, near Ozan, Ark. Rhoda Francis (called Fannie) and Elizabeth Ann Harris were the only children not born in N.C. They were both born in Ga., Murray Co. Rhoda Francis (Fannie) Harris Sanford and John Sanford came to Texas about 1880 and settled in Rains Co., near Emory, Tex. Their children were: (6) James Sanford, (6) John Sanford, (6) Robert Sanford, (6) Katherine Sanford, (6) Twin girls, Sena and Mary Emily Sanford. No birth records or any information about this family.

(6) Sena Sanford, dau. of Fannie Sanford and John Sanford, m. a Mr. Barnett. She died in 1939. They lived near Emory, Rains Co., Tex. Mr. W. O. Barrett of Emory, Tex. is her son.

(6) Emily Sanford, twin to above Sena Sanford, dau. of Fannie Sanford and John Sanford, m. a Mr. Parrish. Mr. J. Nolen Parrish of Emory, Tex. is her son.

(7) Elizabeth Ann Harris b. 1849, ninth child of Edward Harris and Lora Estes Harris b. Murray Co., Ga., m. John Bean near Ozan, Ark. They were members of the "Zion" Baptist Church in the country near Ozan, Ark. An old record was found of the church Minutes where they had withdrawn their letters in 1869. This possibly is about the time they migrated into Texas. If this is right, then there is a possibility that all three of the girls and their husbands migrated into Texas about the same time, about 1869. The writer thinks this must be right as my father knew them when he was a child and grew up with some of their children.

They lived in adjoining counties.. I can remember hearing my mother b. 1869 say they used to go to Rains Co. to visit Aunt Fan Sanford when she was a little girl.

A few traditional stories and a bit of evidence available about the other children of Miniard Harris and Sarah Johnson Harris.

(3) Miniard Harris b. ca.1767 presumably migrated into S.C. with his Uncles Braddock and Edward ca.1798 or before. A Mainyard Harris was found on 1800 Census of Laurens Co., S.C.

(3) Elizabeth called Betsy Harris b. 1770, d. 1845 in Georgia, m. Moses Sanders in Wilkes Co. about 1788. She, evidently, was in Stephens' home in Wilkes Co., as he was a witness and bondsman for her. "Tradition" says, "that the brothers of Miniard helped Sarah with her family after the death of Miniard at Battle of King's Mountain, Oct. 7, 1780." Betsy Harris Sanders and Moses Sanders migrated into South Carolina along with Stephen and his family about 1789. They were found in the 1790 Census of Laurens Co., S.C. Betsy Harris Sanders and Moses Sanders had one son when the Census, 1790, was taken. His name was "Miniard." The writer has found out through correspondence that Betsy had at least two more children and their names were "Harris" and "Sarah". Both Betsy and Moses Sanders died in Ga. Betsy in 1845.

(3) Two daughters in the 1790 Census of Burke Co. Their names probably Mary and Sarah, a dau. living with Sarah in 1800 Census - a widow- had son under 10.

(3) John Harris- a short sketch of this family later.

(3) Giles Harris- no proof. The writer found a Giles Harris in the 1850 Census of Burke Co. He could have been a son of this Giles, John, Edward or Miniard, sons of Miniard and Sarah.

Another name that turned up in the 1850 Census that hit me very forcibly was the family of Jonathan Gilbert. His wife's name was Mary (could have been one of Sarah's and Miniard's granddaughters). The names of their children is proof positive (I think) that they were closely related to Miniard and Sarah Harris. They had a son named "Miniard" and next child listed was "Sarah." Who they are and their descendants I presume is a closed book.

COPY OF AN OLD LETTER BY R. B. ROBINS.

Express.

3/28/1916
Ozan, Ark.

Mr. John Henry
Waynesville, N.C.

My dear Sir:

I am writing this letter to satisfy my mother who is now eighty-eight years old.

Her oldest sister who would now be 90 years if still living, married a John Henry, who lived near Waynesville, N.C. He, if living would be about ninety-three years old. My mother's sister's name was Mary, but I think they called her Polly. Her oldest child's name was Sophia Evoline Henry. I think John Henry had a brother by name of Bill Henry. Mary was a Harris before she married. Her oldest child was about two years old when my mother was separated from them. (Note: Evidently referring to the last time my Grandmother "Mary Henry" saw any of her Harris Family. -Homer Henry) (Note: Mary Henry d. 1915)

She has not heard from them in sixty or seventy years. Mother is the only one living out of the Harris Family that we know. Her brother's names were Jack and Ben and Miniard. Her father was also named "Miniard". (Note: This mistake in my grandfather's name caused me several years of research before I found that his name was Edward. -Key).

If you know anything about this John Henry Family, please write to me to satisfy my mother whose name is Evoline.

Signed: R. B. Robins

(The John Henry addressed in this letter was the son of John A. and Mary Elizabeth Harris Henry. -Homer Henry, a grandson of Mary E. Harris Henry and John A. Henry (Key).

THE HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES

CHAPTER I

1776

1776

1776

The first of July 1776, the Continental Congress declared the United States to be a free and independent nation. This declaration was a landmark event in the history of the United States, as it marked the beginning of the country's journey towards independence from Great Britain. The declaration was signed by the delegates to the Continental Congress, and it was a bold statement of the American people's desire for self-governance.

The declaration was a statement of the American people's desire for self-governance. It was a bold statement of the American people's desire for self-governance. It was a bold statement of the American people's desire for self-governance.

The declaration was a statement of the American people's desire for self-governance. It was a bold statement of the American people's desire for self-governance.

CHAPTER II

The second of July 1776, the Continental Congress adopted the Declaration of Independence. This document was a statement of the American people's desire for self-governance. It was a bold statement of the American people's desire for self-governance.

A LETTER TO MRS. MAUDE HARRIS RICHARDSON OF LAWTON, OKLA.

Born 1844.

Dated 1929
Eton, Ga.

Dear unknown cousin:

I received your letter a few days ago wanting to know about the "Harris Family". I am the only one in this country now that remembers ever seeing them as they all moved West long before the Civil War.

I am the daughter of Miniard Harris (note: son of John Harris, brother of David-Key). Ned Harris was a cousin of my father. He was either a first cousin or second cousin, I do not know which. (note: they were first cousins-Key). Ned's wife's maiden name was Estes. I think it is the same family, some spelled it Eastus. I think one of my father's sisters married an Estes. (note: Sarah Harris, dau. of John Harris, David's brother, m. James Estes the son of Larkin Estes who was a brother of Lott Estes that married Lora Gilbert. -Key) They lived in Burke Co., N.C. (note: many descendants living there and in Caldwell Co. today. -Key) (note: Edward was son of Lewis. -Key)

Ned and Lora had a large family of children. One daughter lived in Haywood Co., N.C. Her husband's name was John Henry. I remember Lora going with us to Haywood Co. to see her daughter. My mother's sister was living not far from her daughter. Your grandfather had two brothers named Jack and Ben. I think they went to Wood Co., Tex. He had one sister named Eveline that married a Robins and one married an O'Rear. Two younger sisters Rhoda (Fannie) Sanford and Betty Anne Harris are younger than I am. Maybe still living. (note: No-Key) My father used to hear from them after they left here but that was a long time ago. I think the last time he heard was after your great-grandfather's death.

My grandfather was not David Harris. There was a David Harris. He and his family went to Texas, the first of the family that went to Texas. (Note: James Gilbert and David came to Texas in 1852. -Key) He had a brother (note: Two brothers- Miniard and Giles. -Key) that lived here and David visited here after he went to Texas. (note: This letter indicated to the writer that David went back in 1853 to bring his mother and maiden sister back to Texas and James Gilbert stayed in Texas to get a crop harvested. -Key)

My father and one brother and another brother's family went to Texas before the Civil War. (This was John Harris and evidently the widow (Mary) of Silas and her five daughters. -Key) but I never hear from them. I am the only one of my father's family living. I had only one sister and one brother. I will be eighty-five years old in Nov. One of my sons lives with me and I have lived at the same place fifty-six years. My children all live near me except my youngest girl that lives at Memphis, Tex. She visited me last summer.

I was about to forget to tell you that I did not know Ned's name was Edward, as I never heard him called by any name except "Ned". He was a good looking man.

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of the study of the history of the United States. It is argued that a knowledge of the past is essential for a full understanding of the present. The author then goes on to discuss the various factors which have shaped the development of the United States, including the influence of the British, the Spanish, and the French. He also discusses the role of the American people in the creation of the new nation. The second part of the paper is a detailed account of the American Revolution. It begins with the first steps towards independence, and then goes on to describe the various battles and events which led to the final victory. The author also discusses the impact of the Revolution on the American people, and the changes which were made to the government. The third part of the paper is a discussion of the early years of the new nation. It begins with the first steps towards a federal government, and then goes on to describe the various events which led to the adoption of the Constitution. The author also discusses the impact of the Constitution on the American people, and the changes which were made to the government. The fourth part of the paper is a discussion of the early years of the new nation. It begins with the first steps towards a federal government, and then goes on to describe the various events which led to the adoption of the Constitution. The author also discusses the impact of the Constitution on the American people, and the changes which were made to the government. A LETTER TO MRS. MAUDE HARRIS RICHARDSON OF LAWTON, OKLA -
Continued

He had such black eyes. So was your grandfather a good looking man. He married a Turner. She had a sister named Siller. Her mother was a widow. Don't know whether she had any more children or not.

If you ever come to Ga. I would be glad to see you. Your letter reminded me of those I had not thought of for years. Write.

Affectionately,

(signed)

Matt (Martha) Loughridge

| LEWIS HARRIS | 60 acres at $150 | 1 white poll |
| MINIARD HARRIS | 250 acres at $500 | 1 white poll |

JOHN, DAVID, AND LEWIS HARRIS were brothers.

MINIARD HARRIS was eldest son of LEWIS HARRIS.

Brief abstracts of deeds below:

DEED BOOK #7 PAGE 94 DATED, NOV. 30, 1819

State grant to David Harris and John Harris for 100 acres on both sides of John's River in Burke County (now Caldwell County).

DEED BOOK #7, PAGE 96 DATED, DEC. 27, 1824

JOHN HARRIS, also signed by DAVID HARRIS to Langston Estes, both of Burke County, N.C. for $400.00, two hundred acres on John's River where John Harris and David Harris now live, adjoining lands of said Estes, also another tract of 100 acres, granted to said John Harris and David Harris in 1819.

DEED BOOK, PAGE 130 DATED, DEC. 27, 1824

DAVID HARRIS, also signed by JOHN HARRIS, to Len Estes, Jr., both of Burke Co., N.C. for $350.00, one hundred and twenty acres on John's River adjoining Edward Harris old line; WITNESS: Reid Hight, Robert Edmiston, Langston Estes.

DEED BOOK #3, PAGE 293 DATED, AUG. 1834

JOHN HARRIS of Buncombe Co., N.C. to Len Estes, Jr., of Burke Co., N.C. for $20.00, fifty acres on Betty Lance Branch of John's River, adjoining Edward Harris, old line and the lands of said Estes.

Total: Three hundred and seventy acres. No deeds when bought except the 100 acres land grant. Many of the Burke Co. Records were destroyed by fire during the War between the North and South 1861-5.

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes the need for transparency and accountability in financial reporting.

2. The second part of the document outlines the various methods and techniques used to collect and analyze data. It includes a detailed description of the experimental procedures and the statistical analysis performed.

3. The third part of the document presents the results of the study. It includes a series of tables and graphs that illustrate the findings of the research. The data shows a clear trend of increasing activity over time.

4. The fourth part of the document discusses the implications of the findings. It suggests that the results have significant implications for the field of study and may lead to further research in this area.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes the study. It summarizes the main findings and provides a final statement on the importance of the research.

EDWARD HARRIS - 1710-1780(ca)

MINIARD HARRIS - 1742-1780

JOHN HARRIS - 1774-1839(ca)

(3) John Harris b. 1774, d. 1839(ca), son of Miniard Harris and Sarah Johnson Harris, m. Dicy Harris, his cousin, the daughter of Miniard Harris's brother Edward Harris. They were married in Burke Co. ca 1800. The 1820 Census Report of Burke Co. lists four sons and three daughters.

The writer has a brief record of four of these children: (4) Miniard Harris b. 1812, son of John and Dicy Harris, m. Dicy Daughtery in Ga. Miniard Harris moved into Buncombe Co. ca. 1825 with his father and mother, John and Dicy Harris. The father John Harris died in Buncombe Co., N.C. The family migrated into Ga. before the 1840 Census was taken, Murray Co. Think this is the Miniard Harris that the father of Mary Catherine Griffin of Tunnel Hill, Ga. is a descendant. Her mother was also a descendant of a Miniard Harris, but he descended from David Harris, the brother of John Harris. The two Miniards were first cousins and had nicknames of "Hawkie" and "Bogey." It was not unusual to find a Miniard in every Harris family at that period.

(4) Miniard Harris and Dicy Daughtery Harris's children were: (5) Martha Ann Harris, (5) Barbara Elizabeth Harris, (5) James Daughtery Harris.

(5) Martha Ann Harris, dau. of Miniard Harris and Dicy Daughtery Harris b. Nov. 1844, m. James Loughridge, Murray Co., Ga. Their children: twins (6) James and Eunice Loughridge.

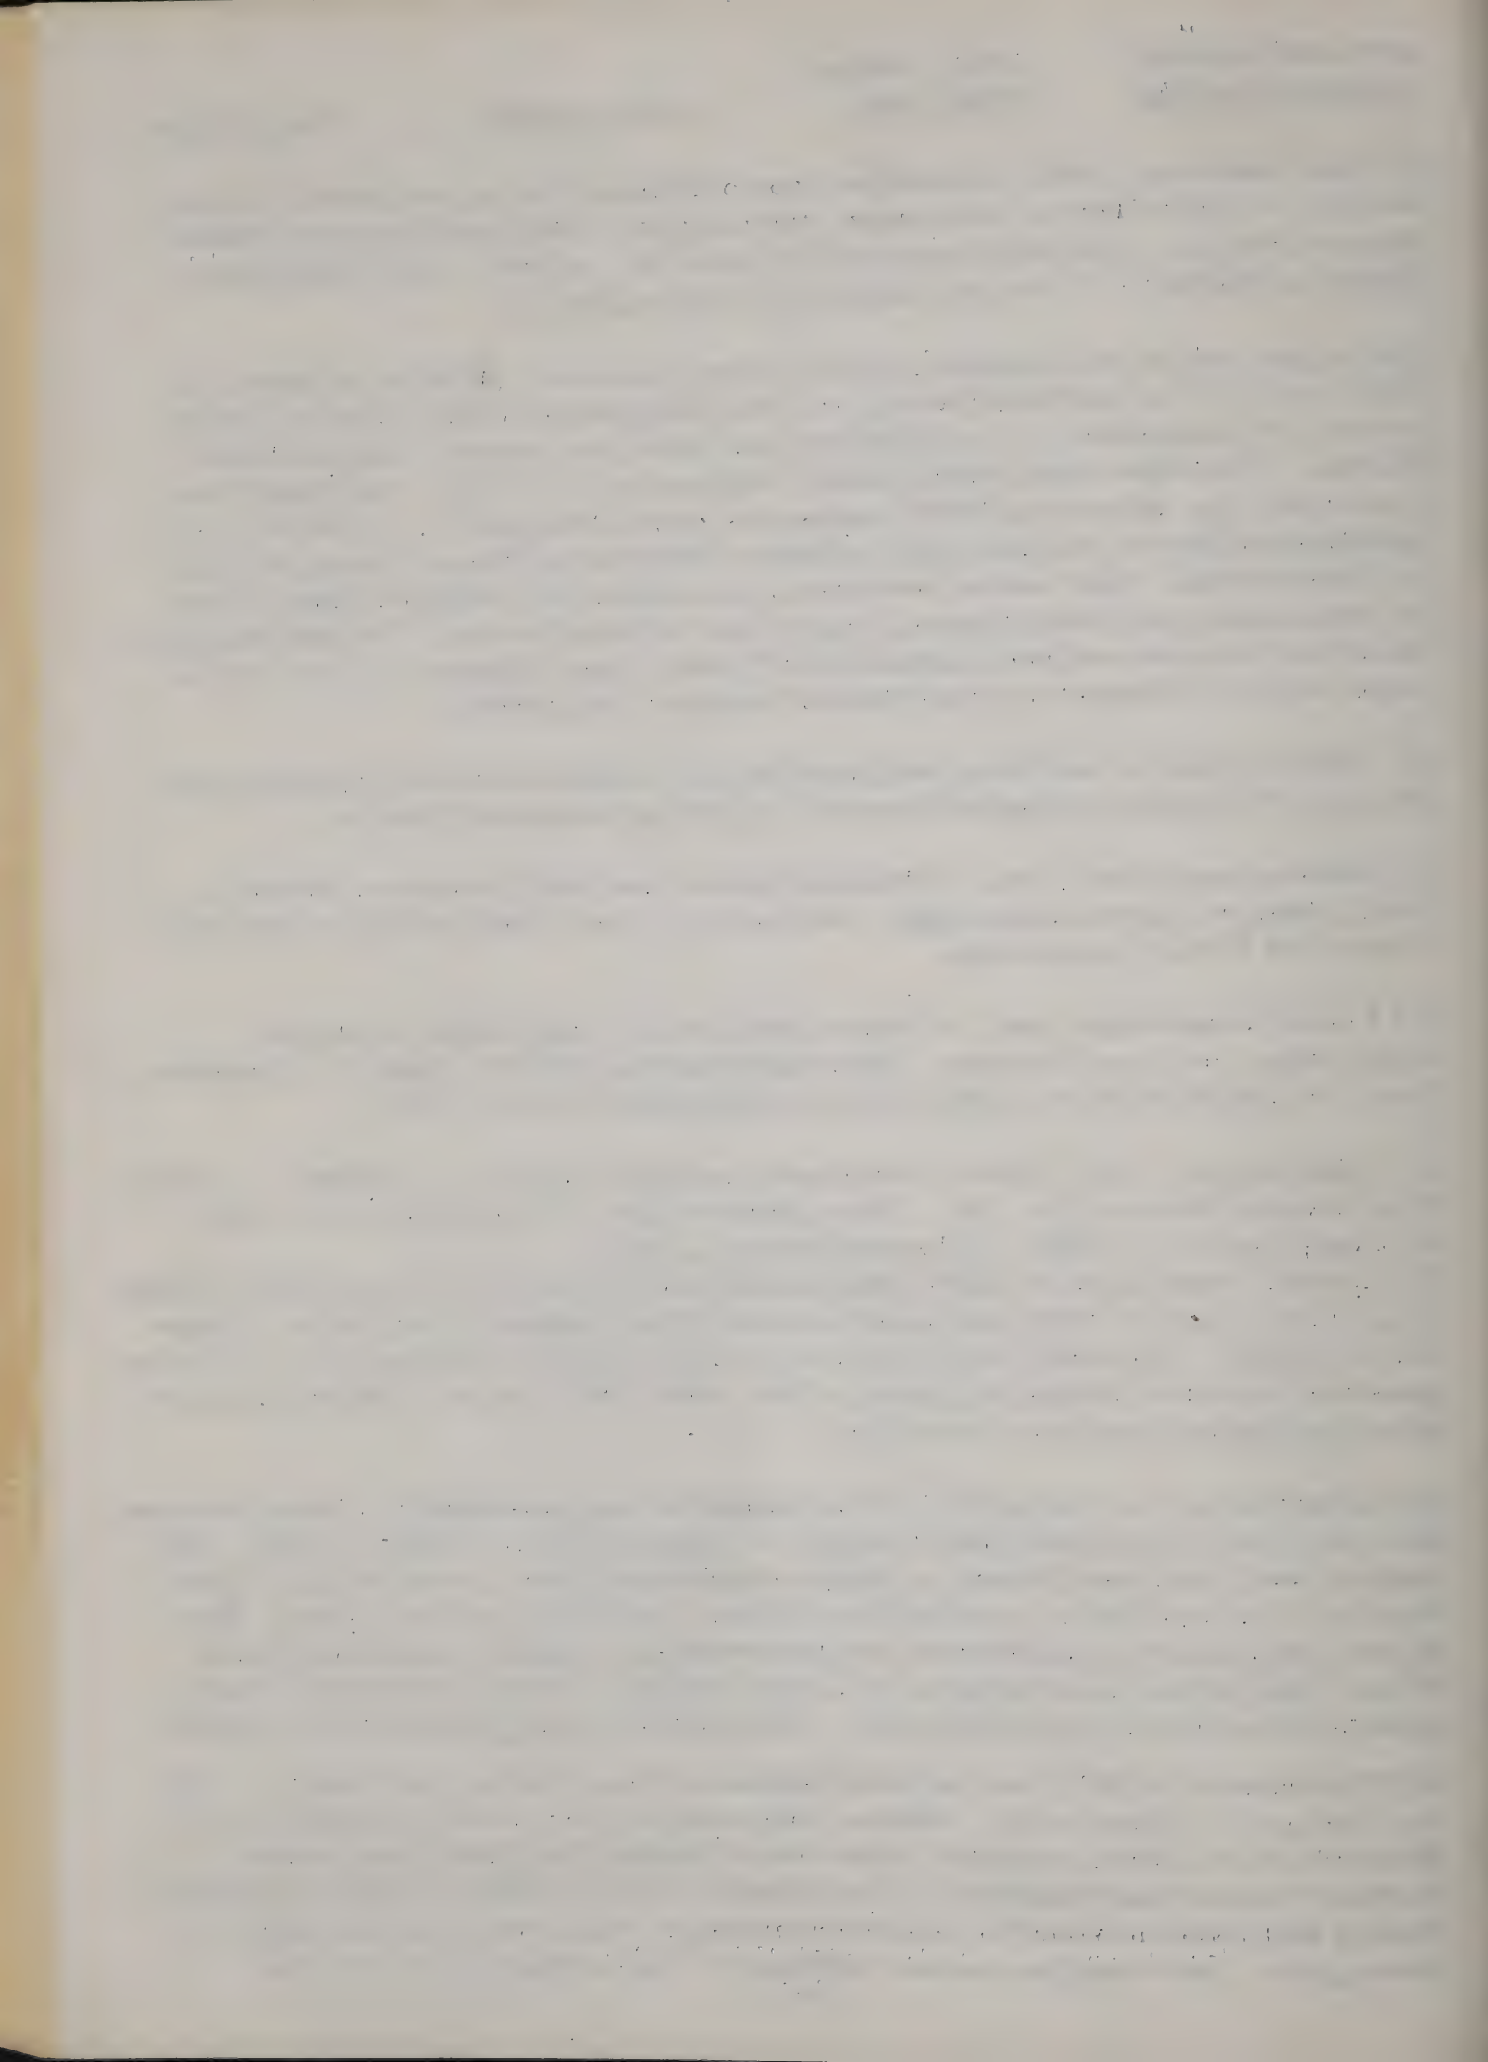

(6) Eunice Loughridge, dau. of Martha Ann Harris Loughridge and James Loughridge, m. Lee Thornton. Their address was 1022 W. Main St., Memphis, Tex. Do not know whether they have any descendants there or not.

(4) John Harris b. 1817 son of John Harris and Dicy Harris, m. Salina ? b. 1827. They lived in Murray Co., Ga. Their children are: (5) John Harris b. 1843, (5) Mary Harris b. 1845, (5) Jordan Harris b. 1849.

The writer thinks that the above John Harris and Jordan Harris migrated to Wood Co., Tex. in early 1860's and would be about third cousins of my father, James David Harris. The family was listed in the 1850 Census of Murray Co. Could be possible the entire family migrated to Tex. about 1859, as many Harris families were coming to Texas about that time.

(4) Sarah Harris b. 1813 in N.C. (was named for her grandmother, Sarah Johnson Harris), dau. of John and Dicy Harris, m. James Estes b. 1809, d. 1886. His mother was Clarrissa Gilbert, a sister of Rebecca Gilbert, who married David Harris. She was also a sister of Lora Gilbert, who married Lott Estes. The Estes, the Gilbert's, and Harris families were all neighbors along the John's River, near where Collettsville, N.C. now stands. There were several marriages back and forth in these families. The writer is much mixed up with them.

(4) Silas Harris b. 1815, son of John Harris and Dicy Harris, m. Mary ? They had five girls. Lived in Ga. Martha Loughridge in her letter to Maude Harris Richardson of Lawton, says her father had a brother and family and another brother's family that migrated to Texas before the Civil War. This is the Mary Harris that lived in Wood Co. and the writers gr. uncle married 2nd to one of these girls. Both families settled in Wood Co. Silas possibly died in Ga.

(3) David Harris b. 1780 in Burke Co., N.C., d. 1845-50 in Gwinette Co., Ga. He was m. Oct. 22, 1811 in Burke Co. to Rebecca Gilbert, dau. of Michael Gilbert. Bondsman was Reid Hight and Witness was D. C. Moore. Both of Burke Co., N.C. David Harris was the youngest child of Miniard Harris and Sarah Johnson Harris. Miniard Harris, his father, sold his plantation in Va., Charlotte Co. in Feb. 1775. It is presumed that Miniard Harris and family, Edward Harris and family, David Harris and his family and perhaps Braddock Harris, migrated into N.C. at this time. They were in Rowan Co. until 1777 when Burke was taken from Rowan Co. Later in the year Wilkes was taken from part of Burke and Surry Cos. The male population of Burke Co. was said to be about 50 in 1777. Families lived near each other along creeks and rivers. After the new Cos. were formed in 1777, it found part of the Harris Family in Burke and part in Wilkes. David Harris was an infant at time his father was killed in Battle of King's Mountain, Oct. 7, 1780. His mother, Sarah Johnson Harris, was left with a big family of children. It is said by some of the Edward Harris line that the different brothers of Miniard helped her with the children.

Rebecca Gilbert was the daughter of Michael Gilbert. She was born in Lincoln Co., N.C. One of the last three born in Lincoln Co. The other six children were born in Va., Bedford Co. They were in the 1790 Census in Lincoln Co., but soon afterward moved into Burke Co. The Gilbert, the Estes, and the Harris families were all neighbors in Burke Co. along the John's River not far from where Collettsville is now located. The Harris's married Gilbert's and Estes's. The Gilberts married Estes's. This part of Burke Co. is now Caldwell Co.

David Harris and Rebecca Gilbert Harris lived in Burke Co., N.C. until after 1824. This was the year that David and John Harris sold their plantation. They were in the 1830 Census of Buncombe Co. An uncle of the writer, Judge V. B. Harris left a short sketch of this family with his personal papers. He said all of the children were born in Burke Co. His father, James Gilbert, was not born until 1827. The youngest child, Carita, was born in Buncombe Co., as they were there by 1830. They probably migrated into Buncombe Co. by 1825. If so, James Gilbert was the only son born in Buncombe Co. in 1827. Before the 1840 Census was taken, David and his family had migrated into Ga., Gwinnett Co. David's name did not appear on the 1850 Census of Gwinnett Co. but the names of his children (those still unmarried) and Rebecca, his wife, were listed on the 1850 Census. In 1852 James Gilbert Harris and David Harris, the two sons unmarried migrated to Tex. They settled in Wood Co. The next year, David went back to Ga., 1853, brought his mother, Rebecca, and a maiden sister, Dicy, back to Tex. with him and at the same time several other members of the family formed a wagon train and all came together. They were among the pioneers of Wood Co. The county was not formed until 1850 late in the year. Carita, the youngest child, did not make the trip to Texas; presumed that she married and remained in Ga. Nothing is known about her.

There is a chart of this Harris family on the preceding page.

(4) Rebecca Harris b. 1812, dau. of David and Rebecca Harris, m. Henry Ingram. I have no records of this family, but as a small child, I do remember Aunt Becky Ingram. Her big rug-making loom was something for me to watch and I was reared on a couple of rugs that came from her loom. The married names of her daughters were Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Bill Gordon, Mrs. Tom Jackson, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Eleanor Winkle. The writer remembers Thomas Winkle, the son of Eleanor Winkle b. the same year that my father was born. His son, Harmon, and a brother still live in the Oak Grove community of Wood Co. I also remember Fannie Jackson Caldwell quite well. The Jackson family came to Texas in 1858 from Ga.

(4) Miniard Harris b. Mar. 27, 1814, d. Nov. 1880. He was the son of David Harris and Rebecca Gilbert Harris. He married Martha Matilda Holland b. ca. 1841. She was b. in South Carolina. Miniard Harris migrated to Ga. with his parents, brothers and sisters sometime between 1835 and 1840. He was on the 1840 Census with his father but soon thereafter he went into Cherokee Co., Ga., where he helped to move the Indians therefrom. He was a pioneer of that Co. He married there and later made permanent settlement in Murray Co., Ga. They lived near Springplace on a farm. Springplace at that time was the county seat of Murray Co. He was called to fill several responsible positions there, among which were the office of Tax Collector and Treasurer.

Miniard Harris and Martha Matilda Holland Harris reared a large family. Three girls and eight boys were b. to this union. One of the sons died in infancy. Three of the sons became Doctors; two were Medical Doctors and one a Dentist, and one son was a Pharmacist. Three sons became lawyers and one a teacher.

The first part of the report deals with the general situation of the country. It is a very interesting and comprehensive survey of the country's resources, its population, and its economic conditions. The author has done a great deal of research and has gathered a wealth of material. The report is well written and is a valuable contribution to the knowledge of the country.

 DICIA A. EVELYN HARRIS - 1851-1885

(5) Dicia America Evelyn Harris b. Feb. 27, 1851, d. Feb. 1885, dau. of Giles N. Harris and Emillier (Millie) Mason Whitworth Harris, m. 1868 to Andrew Jackson Harris, Sr., b. Oct. 21, 1839, N. C., d. Nov. 13, 1884. They are both buried in the Ebenezer Cemetery, Oak Grove Community, Wood Co., Tex. The graves have long ago disappeared, also markers. Dicia Eveline Harris was b. in Murray Co., Ga. The parents of both Dicia Eveline Harris and Andrew Jackson Harris, with other members of the family migrated to Tex. and Ark. in 1859. Andrew Jackson Harris' parents settled in Ark. near Ozan, Hempstead Co. His sister Eveline Robins and husband John Bush Robins also went to Arkansas. Andrew Jackson Harris and brother William Benjamin came on to Tex. with Giles Harris. Shortly afterward Andrew Jackson went back to Murray Co. and enlisted to fight in the Civil War. He was injured at battle of Chicamauga. He lost one lung; was given an honorable discharge. Soon after his return to Texas he and Dicia Eveline were married.

Giles N. Harris's two younger brothers, James Gilbert and David blazed the way to Texas in 1852, settled in Wood Co. The next year David went back for his mother, Rebecca Gilbert Harris, and his maiden sister, Dicy, and while there a wagon-train of several members of the family decided to come along with them to Texas. All of the family settled in Wood Co. and were, of course, early pioneers of the county as well as of Texas.

Andrew Jackson Harris, called Jack, was a prosperous farmer and at his death had accumulated a considerable amount for that time. He owned a cotton-gin and a grist mill. He lost an arm in this gin. He also freighted by wagon and oxen-teams to Jefferson, Tex. bringing back supplies from there. Jefferson was at that time one of the leading trading-posts in East Texas.

Children of Dicia Eveline Harris and Andrew Jackson Harris are:

| MINIARD HARRIS | - 1742-1780 | TEMPERANCE HARRIS | - 1824-1853 |

(4) Temperance Harris b. 1824(ca), Burke Co., N.C., dau. of David Harris and Rebecca Gilbert Harris, m. 1843(ca) to Abraham Sudderth b. Apr. 29, 1824 in Gwinnett Co., Ga. Temperance Harris Sudderth migrated into Gwinnett Co., Ga. along with her parents, brothers and sisters sometime between 1825 and 1830 (Census)

Abraham Sudderth's father, William Sudderth II, and his grandfather, James Sudderth, migrated from Albermarle Co., Va. into Burke Co. where his grandfather owned some 3,000 acres of land. William Sudderth II migrated into Gwinnett Co., Ga. where Abraham was born.

Temperance Harris Sudderth, her husband and four small children (under seven), her brother David Harris, their mother, Rebecca Gilbert Harris, maiden sister, Dicy and other members of the family were migrating to Texas in 1853 when Temperance became ill, died and was buried in the Mississippi River bottom. It took three months to make the trip by ox wagons. James Gilbert Harris, another brother came in 1852 and blazed the way for the rest of the family.

Temperance's mother and sister helped to take care of the four small children. The youngest was only three months old. They all settled in Wood Co., Tex. in the same neighborhood. Wood Co. was formed in 1850 from Van Zandt. They were pioneers of Wood Co.

Temperance Harris Sudderth and Abraham Sudderth's children were: (5) Sarah Rebecca Sudderth b. Nov. 10, 1844, (5) Clarrissue Sudderth b. 1848, (5) David Gilbert Sudderth b. Apr. 20, 1850, d. Sept. 5, 1929, (5) William M. Sudderth b. 1853 (May).

The family names given to these children are very interesting:

Sarah Rebecca--Temperance's grandmother was Sarah Johnson Harris. Her mother was Rebecca Gilbert Harris.

Clarrissue --Temperance's aunt was Clarrissa Gilbert, sister to her mother.

David Gilbert --Temperance's father David Harris, mother Rebecca Gilbert.

William M. --The writer feels fairly certain the M. stood for Miniard. The grandfather of Temperance (Miniard Harris).

(5) Sarah Rebecca Sudderth b. Nov. 10, 1844 in Gwinnett Co., Ga., dau. of Temperance Harris Sudderth and Abraham Sudderth, m. Charles Dement. Sarah Rebecca Sudderth Dement did not live long after the birth of her son. (6) Lee Dement. He was brought up by his grandfather, Abraham Sudderth. He was born in the early 1860's, died a few years ago (now 1961). His widow and bachelor son still live on a farm given to them by David Gilbert Sudderth of Leonard, Tex. There are two married daughters and another son still living but have no record.

(5) Clarrissue Elizabeth Sudderth b. 1848 in Gwinnett Co., Ga., dau. of Temperance Sudderth, m. 1st to Jess London, m. 2nd to Lon Teftteller. She reared a large family of children but have no records. Many of them still live around Leonard and Bailey, Tex.

Hancock Sudderth was b. Aug. 3, 1853, d. Jan. 30, 1940. The David Gilbert Sudderths lived on a beautiful farm near Leonard, Tex. They reared a large family, two girls and eleven boys. One of the girls died before she was a year old. As a girl in my early teens, I remember that Gilbert (called Gil) Sudderth, one of Dave Sudderth's sons was running for Tax Assessor-Collector. While campaigning, his "big joke" was "there are eleven of us Sudderth boys and each one of us has a sister." The children of Dave Sudderth and Martha Hancock Sudderth are:

(7) Morris Sudderth b. Dec. 8, 1913, son of Nugent Sudderth and Jessie Akins Sudderth, m. Rozelle Francis b. 1913. They live at Oklahoma City, Okla.

(4) James Gilbert Harris, son of David Harris and Rebecca Gilbert Harris b. Feb. 8, 1827, d. Mar. 31, 1862, m. Susannah (called Susan) Willson ca. 1857-8. Susan Willson was b. Dec. 31, 1883 in Greene Co., Tenn., d. Sept. 22, 1907. She is buried in the family lot of her son Judge V. B. Harris at Quitman, Tex. James Gilbert Harris, his mother, Rebecca Gilbert Harris, and maiden sister, Dicy, were buried in Ebenezer Cemetery at Oak Grove, Wood Co., Tex. Evidently, no markers were ever placed in the cemetery at Oak Grove. Judge Harris placed markers in the family lot at the Quitman Cemetery for them.

James Gilbert Harris and his brother, David Harris, blazed the way to Tex. in 1852 for the Harris Family, not long after their father had died in Gwinnett Co., Ga. They settled on the "Old Warlick" place between Quitman and Oak Grove. It is thought that David went back to Ga. the following year to bring his mother and sister, Dicy, to Tex. Several other Harris and allied families decided to make the move to Tex. with them. Temperance Harris Sudderth, a sister of James Gilbert and David, was taken ill on the trip, died, and is buried in the Mississippi River bottom.

James Gilbert Harris was born either in Burke or Buncombe Co., N.C. They were living in Buncombe Co. when the 1830 Census was taken. They had sold their land in Burke Co. Dec. 1824 and the writer presumes they migrated into Buncombe come Spring. If this is correct, James Gilbert was the only one of the boys not born in Burke Co. Another girl was b. in Buncombe in 1934. Her name was Carita. She probably was married in Gwinnett Co. shortly before the family left for Tex. Somehow nothing was ever known about this girl. If she was not a sister, she could have been a niece of David's and was living in their home at the time the 1840 and 1850 Census was taken.

Susannah (Susan) Willson Harris was b. in Greene Co., Tenn. the daughter of Hugh Willson b. in Botetourt Co., Va. His father, Hugh Willson, was in Botetourt Co., Va. as early as 1774. Susannah Willson migrated into Texas with her father, brothers and a married sister ca. 1845. They came by flat boat most of the way. First into the Tennessee River then the Ohio, the Mississippi River, and then into the Red. Presume that they embarked near Shreveport and made the trip the rest of the way by wagons drawn by oxen. They settled in that part which was old Nacogdoches Co. Van Zandt Co. was organized in 1848. This found Hugh Willson and his family in Van Zandt Co. In 1850 Wood Co. was formed from Van Zandt. Then the Hugh Willson's were in Wood Co. The writer found them in the Van Zandt Census of 1850. Wood was not formed until late in the year. Some of the earliest settlers in that part of the country were George Greer, Henry Stout, P. M. Gunstream, Hugh Willson, Bentons, etc. Some of the earliest settlers in Wood Co., subsequent to its organization and before the Civil War, were the Harts, Butlers, Douglasses, Shoemakers, Flournoys. The Harrises, Sudderths, Bagbys, Ingrams, Willsons, Bentons are all Harris and allied families from 1846 to 1853.

James Gilbert Harris and Susan Willson Harris children are: (5) Virgil Byron Harris b. Nov. 29, 1859, d. Nov. 26, 1939, (5) James David Harris b. Dec. 31, 1861, d. Jan. 24, 1950.

(5) Judge Virgil Byron Harris b. Nov. 29, 1859, d. Nov. 26, 1939, son of James Gilbert Harris and Susan Willson Harris, m. Mar. 1887 to Ella May Long of Waco, Tex., whose father was William H. Long, a graduate of Law at Baylor University in 1859 and who taught in Baylor for some 30 years afterward.

Virgil Byron Harris and Ella May Long were married by Dr. Burleson, President of Baylor University at that time.

Virgil Byron Harris attended Baylor University two years and transferred to The University of Texas Law School as a Junior in 1883. He received his LLB Degree in 1885. This was the second class to graduate in Law at the University of Texas. T. W. Gregory, a great Benefactor of the University, and for whom the Gregory Gymnasium is named, was a member of this class with Virgil Byron Harris.

Judge Harris and his wife spent most of their married life at Quitman, Tex. the county seat of Wood Co., where he practiced Law. He filled several important offices in the county and district, among which was County Judge and District Judge.

Judge Harris took a great interest in the "Old Settlers" reunion of Wood Co. He served many years as President of the Organization and was instrumental in getting the first home where Governor Stephen Hogg lived after their marriage moved to the Park at Quitman. Governor Stephen Hogg lived near Virgil Byron Harris and his brother James David Harris when they were young.

The children of Judge Virgil B. Harris and Ella May Long Harris are: (6) Ola Mae Harris b. Mar. 3, 1888, d. Nov. 3, 1953, (6) James Dawson Harris b. 1889, d. Oct. 1947, (6) Kenneth Harris b. A TRADITIONAL STORY OF FACTS given by

Mrs. Martha Ann Moss (nee Gilliam, Harris.)

I, Martha Ann Gilliam Moss of Pine, Camp Co., Texas, testify to the facts herein stated, to the best of my ability, knowledge and belief to be the truth concerning my ancestors and also of Mrs. E. L. Richardson of Lawton, Okla.

That my great grandfather Edward Harriss of Burke Co., N.C. was born about the year 1738 (note--should have been 1748) had two older brothers, one David Harriss b. ca.1733 (note--should have been ca. 1746) and Miniard Harris b. about 1736 (note--should have been 1742).

David Harris's wife's name was Nannie Lane; Miniard's wife's name was Sally (Sarah) Johnson and Edward Harris's wife's name was Mary (Molly or Polly) Johnson. Those two brothers married sisters.

David Harris had several children, one I know to be Braddock Harris. Miniard Harris had several children but I only know one. His name was Edward Harris.

And it is known to me by all records of hearing my grandmother, who was a daughter of Edward Harriss(note--Mavin) and a niece of David and Miniard, that those three brothers were soldiers of the Revolutionary War of the United States and that said Miniard Harris was killed at the Battle of "King's Mountain" Oct. 7, 1780 and his children were cared for after the war by his brothers. His son Edward was about the age of my grandmother Mavan Harris Gilliam and he was called "Mountain Ned" to distinguish him from all other Neds in the family. Edward being a family name of the Harriss family.

And to the best of my memory, said Edward Harriss was born about the year of 1786 Note--definitely wrong as he was born before 1780 ca.1776). His wife's name was Betsy Harriss (note--she was his uncle Edward's dau.) and they had a son named Edward. This branch of the family migrated into Georgia and some to Tenn., but I have kept in touch with the descendants of said brothers of the Harriss Family and by Mrs. E. L. Richardson being closely related to members of the Harriss Family that I know descended from those three brothers. I trace her Revolutionary ancestor to be Miniard Harris, killed at Battle of King's Mountain, S.C., Oct. 7, 1780.

Furthermore, I wish to state, I am a Great Granddaughter and Great Niece of those three brothers and am a descendant of Edward Harris on both my mother's and father's side. And furthermore my first husband, Carroll Harriss was of line of my gr. Grandfather, Johnson Harriss (note--Johnson was a son of Edward Harris of Revolution). I am the oldest living member of the Harriss Family that I know to be living and am making this statement of my own free will and pleasure.

Martha Ann Moss (nee Gilliam, Harriss)
(near Pittsburg, Texas)

- (1) EDWARD HARRIS, 1710-ca.1780.
- (2) EDWARD HARRIS, 1748-ca.1820.

(2) Edward Harriss (note spelling). This line of Harriss's spell the name with ss at the end until present day. Edward Harriss born 1748, probably in Charlotte Co., Va. and died ca.1820, Laurens Co., S.C. He married Mary (Polly, also Molly) Johnson in Va. ca.1766-68. These Harriss families migrated into Wilkes and Burke Cos. in N. C. by 1778. They lived neighbors to each other, just across county line. Edward Harriss is said to have lived for a time in Buncombe Co., N.C., also migrated to S.C. about 1795.

Edward Harriss and his brothers, Miniard and David Harriss were in the Revolutionary War. They fought in the Battle of King's Mountain, where Miniard and David were both killed. Edward returned to tell of seeing Miniard fall in battle, but could not identify him later. There are no records in Washington to substantiate this, but it has been handed down in the respective families. It is presumed they were in a fast gathering Militia on way to King's Mountain with neighbors who joined in the affray. It is said that farmers and woodsmen swarmed in to help in this battle. Records were poorly kept, many times just names and no places of residence were recorded. Many records were so dirty and mutilated that it was impossible to record them properly.

There were eight known children of Edward Harriss(2) but the order of birth is not known.

- * (3) Johnson Harriss, said to be the only son of Edward Harriss(2), was born, probably in Charlotte Co., Va. on Dec. 28th, 1769. - (3) Frances (Fanny) Harris m. Hosea Garrett her brother-in-law, in Tenn. It is said Hosea died there. Then Frances moved her family to Tex. where she d. Names and number of children not known.

Most of the above information on the children of Edward and Mary (Polly or Molly) Johnson Harriss, is from a brief history of the Harriss Family, written in 1890 in Perry Co., Ill. by John Harriss, seventh child of Johnson and Anna Garrett Harriss. The original of this document is in the possession of Charles M. Harriss a grandson of John, who lives in DuQuoin, Ill. A copy of the sketch is in the possession of Mrs. W. T. Montgomery of Monument, N. M.

(2) EDWARD HARRIS, 1748-ca.1820.

The information on Jacob Glaze is from a book by Mrs. Corinne Mehringer of Chicago, Ill., "Burns Family, Old 96 District, S. C."

An old letter has recently come to light which was written in April 1929, by an elderly lady living in Pine, Camp Co., Tex. She was Mrs. Martha Ann Moss, nee Gilliam. Mrs. Moss states that she is the granddaughter of Maven Harriss Gilliam, daughter of Edward Harriss. Also, that she is a descendant of Edward Harriss through both her mother's and her father's side of the family. Furthermore, she says her first husband, a Harriss, was a descendant of her great-grandfather, Johnson Harriss. So Mrs. Moss was a descendant of both Maven and Johnson, who were children of Edward Harriss.

Descendants of Johnson and Anna Garrett Harriss, through their fourth child, Martha Harriss.
